Braised Greens

Braised greens retain many of their phytonutrients, help maintain a healthy liver, boost the immune system and repair damaged DNA.

Ingredients
- greens (1 lb. greens feeds 2 to 3 as a side dish.)
- chopped garlic and/or onion
- olive or sesame oil or bacon fat
- water, stock or wine
- sea salt and fresh pepper

Wash and roughly cut greens; chop large stems separately.

Heat a little fat or oil in a large skillet. Add toughest pieces of greens first while stirring and cooking. Add a little liquid or stock if necessary.

As stems become tender, add garlic, onion and remaining chopped leaves. Stir and cook until greens are wilted. If necessary, add stock, cover and cook until tender.

Season with salt and pepper. Chopped fresh herbs, such as parsley, basil or cilantro, may be added.
